Upgrading existing services within our building, needed the right contractor to respect our clients and high level of finishes. We found that in Quest !
 Private Client
 April 2019

This highly regarded and finished interior, needed some much-needed upgrades with its services to which Quest were appointed to complete. The project needed to ensure we worked in discretion and on completion handed back as the space was found.

Quest deployed a tailored but small team to work in and round the building, working daily to ensure the clients customers where the top priority.
